Le Groupe Dance Lab pushes risk to its maximum peak in its next dance creation in progress
Master Choreographer Tedd Robinson returns to The Dance Lab this year to expose the outcome of his artistry only 24 hours after he lands in our studio

Artistic Director Peter Boneham describes choreographer Tedd Robinson as a Master of imagery and illusion. After all, it takes a master to believe in the pre-eminence of his creative process and to show its result to the public after only one day.

Last fall, Robinson blew Ottawa audiences away at the Dance Lab with his creation, The Country Stories, set to Beethoven. Robinson is back at The Lab to use last year's material as a springboard. In this version, Robinson will perform with Le Groupe's dancers as an interpreter of his own work, revealing to Ottawa once again, the finely tuned echelon of his artistry.
